

Get prepared for better building performance!

As we prepare to bring Green Star – Performance to the market, there's plenty you can do to prepare your building and your team for participation in the pilot phase.

June 2013

Express your interest

From 1 June, you can start your journey towards better building performance by expressing your interest in pilot phase participation. Complete an Expression of Interest form here.

July - Sept 2013

Start a conversation

Contact us to discuss how Green Star – Performance can work for your building or portfolio. We'll help you prepare for the pilot phase by familiarising you with the rating tool's credits, necessary documentation and certification process.

October 2013

Register

From October, you'll be able to register your building for certification under the Green Star – Performance PILOT rating tool using our brand new online submission platform.

Oct - Nov 2013

Find out more

Throughout October and November, the Green Star team will be travelling the country to introduce Green Star – Performance to GBCA members like you in a series of In the Know briefing events. Dates will be announced soon.
